KNOW YOUR VALUE

Whether you are underwriting a loan, evaluating a portfolio for future default risk, assessing your REO returns, identifying a quick sale value or racing the clock to meet agency guidelines, accurately identifying and monitoring collateral value in a timely fashion is essential.

If there is one thing we learned from the economic landscape of the last decade, it is this: collateral value can rapidly fluctuate based on local market conditions. To accurately assess risk while meeting mission-critical timelines, lenders, servicers and investors require accurate, timely and responsive valuations from a local market source.

SOLUTIONS & SERVICES OVERVIEW

Collateral Valuation and Risk

Obtaining accurate valuations on large volumes of loan files requires a tested and efficient process. Delivering valuation services since 1996, Consolidated Analytics has established a high-quality suite of products that surpass client expectations while still ensuring timely completion.

While other companies automate QC, simply checking for the presence of data, Consolidated Analytics' QC process is rigorous. The QC process leverages automated rules both during agent entry and at submission, and couples them with a hands-on review from a trained valuation professional to ensure a comprehensive, transparent BPO report.
